THE IMAGISTIC DIAGNOSIS IN STROKE

Lecturer Andreea Fleancu MD, PhD
Faculty of Medicine, University Transilvania Braşov

The stroke is simple to define: we are talking about a neurological deficit which has a presumptive vascular cause. We use CT and IRM to diagnose and follow it, because they can answer best to the following problems: type of stroke, affected territory, mechanism of ischemia