

CLINICAL CONSIDERATIONS ON FITZ-HUGH-CURTIS SYNDROME

Assist. Alexandru Keresztes MD
Faculty of Medicine Braşov

Fitz-Hugh-Curtis Syndrome (FHC) was first time described in 1920 and is characterized by local upper abdominal pains as a result of a pelvic infection, followed by inflammatory process of liver capsule or diaphragm.