

SINDROM DE VENĂ CAVĂ SUPERIOARĂ ȘI SINDROM MEDIASTINAL SUPERIOR- PREZENTARE DE CAZ

asist. univ.dr. Vodă Daniela<sup>b2</sup>, dr. Secăreanu Diana<sup>1</sup>,
dr. Mihalache Cristina<sup>1</sup>, conf. univ.dr. Popa Gheorghe<sup>3</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Spitalul Clinic de Copii Brașov,

<sup>2</sup> Facultatea de Medicină,

Universitatea Transilvania Brașov

<sup>3</sup> Clinica Pediatrie II Cluj Napoca, UMF Cluj

Superior vena cava syndrome is rare in children and appears in 12% of children with cancer in the chest. It is a group of symptoms that occur when the superior vena cava becomes partially blocked. The situation represents a medical emergency. This is a case report of two children who presented with superior cava vein syndrome with two different causes.